Dear Dan:

The enclosed proposal is designed to bring the 3-Channel Data Reduction spares program up to date. As we mentioned in our letter, CMCC Doc. No. 151X5.754, dated October 4, 1957, the additional engineering changes to the major equipment and operational experience have substantially changed the previously approved spares listings. Because of the extensive nature of the changes, we have prepared new listings and have not attempted to follow changes to the individual items. Copies of these new listings, Revision B of the FAK listings Y-A, Y-B, Y-C and Y-F, and the Depot Spares List Y, are enclosed. As the previous spares lists had been approved, procurement was almost completed to this configuration. The majority of the deleted items were of a nature that permitted our absorbing them for use elsewhere in the Project. Some items, however, estimated at $102.00 per List Y-A, $27.00 per List Y-B, $59.00 per List Y-C, $88.50 per List Y-F, and $457.00 per Depot List Y, are no longer of use in any of our Systems. These items, therefore, will become surplus and are available for disposition as you may recommend. *answered

A cost summary and cost estimates for the individual revised equipment listings are enclosed. It is recommended that one Fly-Away Kit be provided for each deliverable rack, or eleven Equipment List Y-A, ten Equipment List Y-B, fourteen Equipment List Y-C, and twenty-nine Equipment List Y-F. These recommended quantities include spares for all 3-channel racks on order. Two new Depot lists, Equipment List Y, will be required to support the now larger quantity of FOG Racks. One such Depot list will continue to be sufficient for the support of Requirement No. 1. We assume Requirement No. 2 will continue to draw depot spares from Requirement No. 1.

The total estimated cost of this 3-channel data reduction support is $153,236.52; the fixed fee at 8.25% is $12,642.14; and the total estimated cost including fee is $165,878.66, which is within existing funding.

As there have been only limited shipments of spares to date and there are quite a few racks in the field at present, we are proceeding with previously approved quantities of Fly-Away Kits for the various racks. All work is being directed toward supplying the spares as listed in the enclosed revised listings. We will not proceed with the Fly-Away Kits for the recently added racks until we receive authorization.

Sincerely,

Dean
